Colorado

Council of Medical

Librarians

Mission Statement

The Colorado Council of Medical Librarians (CCML) is an association of individuals involved with information management in the health sciences. Opportunities for professional growth are provided by CCML through networking, education, and organizational participation. By collaborating with other organizations, CCML strives to increase public awareness of, and support for, the profession. CCML monitors developments in health care and information science, and assesses their impact on the profession and its future.

Goals

1. To optimize cooperation among CCML members.
2. To strengthen affiliations between CCML and related groups.
3. To respond to the educational and professional needs of CCML members.
4. To enhance CCML's organizational structure and to support its future growth.

Membership

CCML members work in hospitals, colleges and universities, public libraries, non-profits, associations and corporations, or may be independent information brokers.

You may apply for membership in one of the following categories:

1. Regular members (currently employed in the health science information field)
2. Associate members (interested in CCML)
3. Student members (enrolled in a program of librarianship, media, or information science)
4. Emeritus members (former regular members who are now retired)

Meetings

Four meetings a year are held on a rotating basis in the various members' institutions. Meetings include Council business, an educational program on a library or health care topic, and networking opportunities.

Past programs have covered evidence based medicine, medical information systems, consumer health, medical emergencies, and trends in health care marketing.

Professional Development

A variety of continuing education courses and workshops are offered each year in cooperation with the Medical Library Association, other professional library associations, and database vendors.

Opportunities offered in the past have included Evidence-Based Librarianship; Sync or Swim; Managing the Flood of PDAs in Health Care; Myth & Reality of Electronic Publishing; The Effect of E-journals on Your Libraries; Managing Multiple Priorities and PubMed/NLM Gateway updates.

Special Interest Groups

CCML membership offers the added opportunity to join Special Interest Groups (SIGs).

Examples of these groups are:

- Evidence Based Health Care
- Colorado Consumer Health Information
- Paralibrarians
