5. Old Business
   a. Ad hoc Fundraising Task Force report, Lynne Fox
On April 12th, 8 volunteers from CCML met to discuss coordinated efforts to approach vendors for donations.

1. Background
   a. CCML is about $500 short of covering all its expenses and fundraising is a feasible way to make up this deficit.
   b. Rather than having the President Elect be the sole fundraiser for CCML, a team of volunteers can share this responsibility.
   c. Lynne will coordinate the group effort.

2. Process
   a. Leslie Williams has shared her list of contacts (see handout).
   b. If you volunteer to contact a person that isn’t on this list, send updates to Lynne.
   c. Volunteers will start by calling their contact person to ask how companies generally contribute to organizations. (When is the best time to ask for donations? Who is the best contact person?).
   d. If you talk to anyone about contributions at an annual association meeting (i.e. MLA), email the CCML list so others don’t contact the same vendor.

3. Incentives for vendors to donate
   a. There will be different incentives for vendors to contribute to CCML, ranging from sending an email to the entire CCML listserv, to presenting at a CCML meeting.
   b. We need clever names for the donation amount levels (i.e. Gold, Silver, Bronze) that reflect something about our profession. Send Lynne ideas.
c. Members were asked if they were okay having vendors present their products at our meetings. No one opposed, although it was mentioned that educational programs were preferable to sales pitches. Lynne will coordinate with vendors if they wish to present.

4. Other fundraising ideas
   a. Char proposed an online book sale, where libraries or individuals will give her unwanted books and she will sell them using an online book vendor. All proceeds would go to CCML.
   b. This will begin as a pilot project, so we will start small. If you have one unwanted book, email Char.

5. Lynne motioned to instate the Fund Raising Task Force as a Committee.
   a. No Discussion brought up.
   b. All voted in favor of the motion.

6. New Business (none)

7. Announcements
   a. Deb Weaver was awarded the Marla Graber award.
   b. Awards for participation in a committee or office for the previous year were given to members.
   c. Lisa Traditi announced her coordination with MCMLA, SCC, NCNLG and MLGSCA to host a quad chapter meeting in Denver in the fall of 2014.
      i. Lynne Fox, Diane Tobin, Dana Abbey, and Erin Palazzolo will help with venue and hotel scoping for the expected 300-500 attendees. If you’re interested in helping coordinate lodging and venue arrangements, please contact Lisa.

Adjourn, Deb Weaver, 11:57am
